New England Sculptors Association Exhibition Opens at Bridgewater State University

Deerfield, NH, August 18, 2011 — James Rappa will be one of the featured artists in the major exhibition at Bridgewater State University that is being sponsored by the New England Sculptors Association (NESAS).

The exhibition, which is free, opens on September 7 and runs through October 15 in the Maxwell Library at Bridgewater State University in Bridgewater, MA. Library hours are Monday through Thursday, 7:45 am – 11:45 pm; Friday, 7:45 am – 5:00 pm; Saturday, 8:30 am – 4:00 pm, and Sunday, 12 pm – 11:45 pm.

“NESAS is delighted that this exhibition is at Bridgewater State University,” said Greg Spitzer, president of NESAS. “The location makes the exhibition very accessible to both students and the general public. Sculptors from all over New England are presenting 60 works in bronze, marble, wood, plaster, aluminum, clay, paper, alabaster, mixed media, and even found objects. The exhibit was curated by Betty Bothereau, owner and lead art consultant of L’Attitude Gallery on Newbury Street in Boston.

“There will also be a chance for visitors to meet some of the artists during our special event on Sunday, September 18, Talking 3-D: Conversations with Sculptors. Artists will be discussing their work during the presentation that will be held in the Heritage Room of the Library from 2:00 pm – 3:30 pm.”

Sculptors who will have works in the exhibition include Elizabeth Archer, Andrew Barlow, William Bloomfield, Dave Borrus, Kathleen Brennan, Fielding Brown, Steven Alden Carpenter, Ryan Collins, Richard Creighton, Elaine Daly, Josie Campbell Dellenbaugh, Jim Doubleday, Charles Hansen, Jen Hebert, Bob Hesse, Lynne Johnson, Robert Jones, Barrett Kern, Karen

Klein, Andrew Laverty, Eric Lintala, Madeleine Lord, Rob Lorenson, Maria Luongo, Fred Manasse, Joseph Montroy, William Moser, Joan Mullen, Patricia Musick, Judy O'Donnell, Kim Radochia, James Rappa, Derek Riley, Nick Santoro, Antoinette Schultze, George Shaw, Peter Spampinato, Greg Spitzer, Derrick Te Paske, and Melanie Zibit.

About the New England Sculptors Association:

Founded in 1948, NESAs is one of the oldest sculptors organizations in the United States. It represents a diverse membership of internationally, nationally and regionally recognized sculptors. NESAs sponsors juried shows throughout New England, has an active website with member gallery pages (www.nesculptors.com), and awards The Peter Abate Memorial Scholarship to a student in a sculpture program at one of several New England colleges.
